

I enjoy not being called. It never failed on when they called. It was either Dinner or real late at night. They talked to anyone in your household as if they were your friend. They asked if you were there by your first name so you would get on the phone. I like NOT being called 3 to 7 times a day/night. I say leave it how it is. Thank you for letting me have my say.